Welcome to Clyde Annandale September 26, 2010 -- 8:45 and 11:00 a.m.

Few, if any, entertainers in the Atlanta area approach show business like Clyde Annandale. He writes, directs, produces and performs his own plays and stories. WSB-TV did a feature story on this one of a kind storyteller. Annandale masterfully portrays 52 distinct characters ranging from his well-known one-eyed seaman in Horses to Jesus in The Upper Room. Twenty-seven of his stage plays have had successful runs during the decade since Clyde's return home from 15 years in Los Angeles. His work has taken him far and wide. He played King David for Benjamin Netanyahu at the 50th anniversary of the statehood of Israel. Clyde portrayed Jesus before the Mayor of Jerusalem and five thousand of his friends in the Jerusalem Convention Center. He traveled to Bosnia as the war ended to research and write Tale of Medjugore, named Best Dramatic Production by an Atlanta Playwright in 1997, also receiving coverage on the popular TV Show, 20/20.

But Clyde makes it clear that his acting skill is the tool he uses to recapture the raw power of the life of Jesus. Clyde lived, performed, and researched in Jerusalem much of 1998-2001. He wrote many of his scripts sitting on the shores of the Sea of Galilee and in cafes in Jerusalem. His portrayals evaporate two millennium of theological discussion and suddenly the audience is shoulder to shoulder with a band of salty fisherman staring into the face of the mysterious renegade Rabbi.

We have a rare treat this morning, in that Clyde is with us for two of our three services here at Watkinsville First UMC. He charges no up-front fees or deposits when agreeing to serve a congregation. He works solely from the love offerings that are given in appreciation for his work.

If Clyde's performance this morning has touched your soul or stirred your spirit, won't you please let him know? And be sure to make a generous love offering to affirm your appreciation of his very unique ministry. Our children and youth will be at all three exits after worship this morning, with offering baskets. If you would like to make out a check, please make it payable to "Motivation To Live By," or you may place cash in the basket as well. Or both! Either way, please let Clyde know how much you enjoyed his portrayal of one of the "Sons of Thunder."
